PILE DRIVER

MT500 MATERIAL TRANSPORTER

AUTOMATE YOUR PILE WORK

Material transporters are equipped with an advanced arm attachment for automated pick and place — designed with safety in mind to eliminate the need for crews to manually handle piles. A single button push picks up a pile and places it in the correct position.

Vermeer pile drivers include an optional laser/GPS-ready system helping you ensure piles are driven at the right location, depth and angle — reducing manual layout, minimizing rework and reduce tracking time across the entire array. For contractors, that means tighter tolerances, fast production and more confidence from the first pile to the last.

MATERIAL HANDLING, MASTERED.

There's more to the job than driving piles. It's about moving them smarter and with safety in mind. The Vermeer MT500 material transporter delivers unmatched control, hands-off pile placement and automation on the jobsite. Designed to handle piles efficiently and intelligently, the MT500 helps keep your operation productive.

Configurable rack design

Configurable to fit your jobsite needs and designed to securely hold 10 ft to 25 ft (3.1 - 7.7 m) W-beam piles with a max total payload of 5,000 lb (2,267.96 kg).

Automated efficiency

With a single button press, each pile is placed delivering consistent results and handling up to 400 lb (181.4 kg).

Designed with safety in mind,

it includes features such as AutoNavigation, AutoPick, and AutoPlace that streamline your workflow.
